THE PEOPLE'S ASSEMBLY OF THE REPUBLIC OF ALBANIA

DECIDED

GENERAL PART

CHAPTER I

CRIMINAL LAW AND ITS APPLICATION

Article 1

Criminal Law and classification of criminal acts

Criminal law defines the criminal acts, the sentencing and other measures taken against the persons who committed them.

Criminal acts are classified into offences and contraventions. The distinction between them is made in the provisions of the Special Part of the present Code.

Article 2

Unlawful sentencing

No one may be sentenced for an act, which is not already explicitly provided for by law as an offence or a criminal contravention.

No one may be sentenced with a type and measure of punishment that is not provided for by law.

Article 3

Përcaktion in the Albanian original.
Operation in time of the criminal law

No one may be sentenced for an act that, according to the law in effect at the time it was committed, did not constitute a criminal act.

A new law which does not incriminate a criminal act has retroactive effect. If the person has been sentenced, the enforcement of the sentence shall not commence and, if it has commenced, it shall cease.

If a law in force at the time when a criminal act has been committed differs from a subsequent law, the law whose provisions are more favorable to the person who has committed the criminal act shall apply.

Article 4
Ignorance of law

Ignorance of the law that punishes a criminal act does not constitute a cause for exclusion from criminal responsibility, unless the ignorance is objectively unavoidable.

Article 5
Territory of the Republic of Albania

The Republic of Albania’s territory in the sense of criminal law, is defined as the land space, the width of the territorial and internal sea waters, the air space extending over the land space and over the territorial and internal sea waters space as well as over any other place under the sovereignty of the Albanian State such as the residencies of the Albanian diplomatic and consular missions, the ships carrying the flag of the Republic of Albania, the ships belonging to the navy, [the carriers] of the military and civil aviation wherever they happen to be.

Article 6
The applicable law on criminal acts committed by Albanian citizens

As concerning criminal acts committed by Albanian citizens within the territory of the Republic of Albania, the criminal law of the Republic of Albania shall apply.

The criminal law of the Republic of Albania shall also be applicable to the Albanian citizen who commits an offence within the territory of another country, when that offence is concurrently punishable, unless a foreign court has given a final sentence.

In the sense of this article, Albanian citizens shall also be considered those persons who apart from the Albanian citizenship hold another one too.

Article 7
The applicable law on criminal acts committed by foreign citizens

2Dënon (punishes) in the Albanian original.
3Seli in the Albanian original.
4Shtet in the Albanian original.
The foreign citizen who commits a criminal act within the territory of the Republic of Albania is held responsible on the basis of the criminal law of the Republic of Albania. a) crimes against humanity;

b) crimes against Albanian independence and its constitutional order;

c) terrorism;

d) organization of prostitution, illegal manufacturing and trafficking of drugs, other narcotic substances, weapons, nuclear substances, as well as pornographic materials;

e) hijacking airplanes or ships;

f) falsifying the Albanian state seal, Albanian currency, or Albanian bonds or stocks;

g) crimes which affect the life or health of Albanian citizens, to which the law provides for a punishment by imprisonment of five years or any other heavier punishment.

Article 8

Applicable law on criminal acts committed by a person without nationality

If a person who does not hold any nationality commits a criminal act within the territory of the Republic of Albania or an offence outside it, the provisions of Article 7 of this Code shall apply.

Article 9

Responsibility of a foreign citizen who enjoys immunity

Any case concerning the responsibility of a foreign citizen who commits a criminal act within the territory of the Republic of Albania and enjoys immunity according to international law is resolved diplomatically.

Article 10

Validity of criminal sentences of foreign courts

Unless otherwise provided for by bilateral or multilateral treaties, the criminal sentences of foreign courts on Albanian citizens who plead guilty of committing a criminal act are valid in Albania within the limits of the Albanian law, also on the following merits:

a) for the effect of qualifying as recidivist the person who has committed the criminal act;

b) to execute sentences comprising additional punishment;

c) for implementing security measures;

d) for compensation of damages or other civil law effects.

Article 11

Extradition

Masa të sigurimit in the Albanian original Extradition may be granted only when explicitly provided for by international treaties where the Republic of Albania is a party.

Extradition shall be granted when both Albanian law and foreign law provide for the criminal act, which constitutes the object of the request for extradition, as such simultaneously.

Extradition shall not be granted:

a) if the person to be extradited is an Albanian citizen, unless otherwise provided for by the treaty;

b) if the criminal act constituting the object of the request for extradition is of a political or military nature;

c) when there is reasonable ground to believe that the person requested to be extradited will be persecuted, punished or wanted because of his political, religious, national, racial or ethnic beliefs;

d) if the person requested to be extradited has been tried for the criminal act for which a competent Albanian court demands the extradition.

CHAPTER II
CRIMINAL RESPONSIBILITY

Article 12
Age for criminal responsibility

A person bears criminal responsibility if, at the time he or she commits an offence, he or she has reached the age of fourteen.

A person who commits a criminal contravention bears responsibility at the age of sixteen.

Article 13
Causal connection

No one bears criminal responsibility if there is no causal connection between his action or inaction and the actual consequences or their probability to be realized.

Article 14
Guilt

No one shall be sentenced for an action or inaction that is provided for by law as a criminal offense if the latter is not guilty of committing the action or inaction.

A person is guilty if he commits the criminal act intentionally or because of negligence.

Article 15
Intention

A criminal act is committed intentionally when the person foresees the consequences of

---

6 Lejohet (permitted) in the Albanian original.
7 Kërkohet in the Albanian original.
the criminal act and wants them to occur or, although he foresees but does not want them, consciously allows them to occur.

Article 16

Negligence

A criminal act is committed because of negligence when the person, although he does not want its consequences, foresees the possibility of their occurrence and with light mindedness attempts\(^8\) to avoid them, or when he does not foresee the consequences, but according to the circumstances, he should and could have foreseen them.

Article 17

Irresponsibility because of the person’s mental state

A person does not bear criminal responsibility if, at the time of the commitment of the act, he suffered from psychic or neuropsychic disorders ruining his mental balance entirely and, consequently, was unable either to control his actions or omissions, or to understand the criminal act he was committing.

A person is responsible if, at the time of the commitment of the criminal act, he suffered from psychic or neuropsychic disorders which lowered his mental balance [and capacity] to understand and fully control his actions or inactions, but this circumstance will be considered by the court when deciding on the degree and the kind of punishment.

Article 18

Criminal act committed when inebriated

A person is not excluded from criminal responsibility if he commits the act while inebriated.

When the state of inebriation is accidental and brings about the lowering of mental balance, the court considers this circumstance for mitigating the sentence. When the person is intentionally\(^9\) inebriated in order to commit a criminal act, the court considers this circumstance for aggravating the sentence.

The above mentioned rules are also applied when the criminal act is committed under the effect of narcotics or other stimulants.

Article 19

Necessary defense

A person bears no criminal responsibility if he commits the act while being compelled to protect his or somebody else’s life, health, rights and interests from an unfair, real and accidental attack, provided that the defense is proportionate to the dangerousness of the attack.

Obvious disproportion between them constitutes excessiveness over the limits of necessary defense.

\(^8\) Shpreson, which is equivalent to hopes, in the Albanian original.

\(^9\) Me paramendim (premeditatedly) in the Albanian original.
Article 20

Extreme necessity

A person does not bear criminal responsibility if he commits the criminal act because of the necessity to confront a real and accidental danger which threatens him, another person or property from a serious damage which is not avoidable through other means, unless it has been instigated by him and the damage incurred is greater than the damage avoided.

Article 21

Exercising a right or fulfilling a duty

A person bears no criminal responsibility if he acts to exercise rights or fulfill duties determined by law or an order ruled by a competent authority, unless the order is obviously unlawful.

When the criminal act is committed as a result of an unlawful order, then the person who has given such an order shall be held responsible.

CHAPTER III

ATTEMPT

Article 22

The meaning of attempt

A criminal act is considered an attempt when, although the person undertakes straightforward actions to commit such criminal act, it is discontinued or is not completed due to circumstances independent of his will.

Article 23

Responsibility for the attempt

The person attempting to commit a crime shall be held responsible.

Considering the stage until the realization of the consequence, as well as the causes due to which the offence remained an attempt, the court may mitigate the sentence, and may lower it under the minimum provided for by law, or may decide for a kind of punishment milder than the one provided for by law.

Article 24

Giving up the commitment of a criminal act

A person bears no criminal responsibility if, on his own will and in a definite way, he declines to commit a criminal act, despite the opportunities he may have for committing the act.

In the case that the actions committed up to that time contain elements of another criminal act, the person shall be held responsible for the acts committed.

CHAPTER IV

COLLUSION
Article 25
Meaning of collusion

Collusion is the agreement of two or more persons to commit a criminal act.

Article 26
Collaborators

Collaborators in committing a criminal act are considered: the organizers, executors, instigators, and helpers.

Organizers are those persons who organize and manage the activity to commit the criminal act.
Executors are those persons who carry out direct actions to realize the criminal act.
Instigators are those persons who instigate the other collaborators to commit a criminal act.
Helpers are those persons who, through advice, instructions, concrete means, abolition of obstacles, promises to hide collaborators tracks\(^\text{10}\) or things relevant to the criminal act, help to carry it out.

Article 27
Responsibility of collaborators

Organizers, instigators, and helpers bear the same responsibility as the executors for the criminal act committed.

In deciding the sentencing of collaborators, the court should consider the level of participation and the role played by everyone in committing the criminal act.

Article 28
Armed gang and criminal organization

Armed gang and criminal organization represent particular forms of collusion which differ not only with respect to the number of participants, but also on their level of organization and persistence to commit a number of criminal acts.

A criminal organization represents the highest degree of collusion for committing a consistent criminal activity.

The creation and participation in an armed gang or in criminal organizations, as well as their committing of criminal acts, are qualified as specific criminal acts and are punished according to the provisions of the Special Part of this Code.

Members of an armed gang or a criminal organization bear responsibility for all criminal acts committed by the gang or the organization if they have acted either as organizers or executors or instigators or helpers.

A member of an armed gang or a criminal organization bears no criminal responsibility for collusion when he repents and helps the competent authorities in order to prevent the [criminal] activity and discover the collaborators.

\(^{10}\text{Gjurmë in the Albanian original.}\)
It is a circumstance for mitigating the punishment, and in some particular cases, for lowering it under the minimum provided for by law, if a member of an armed gang or of a criminal organization which has committed criminal acts repents and cooperates with the competent authorities to discover the [criminal] activity and the other collaborators.

If the court holds that the role played by the member of the armed gang or criminal organization who repents is not cardinal, when the acts he has committed are not extremely dangerous and when the help he has given for the discovery of the [criminal] activity and of the collaborators of the gang is important, it may exclude him from sentencing.

CHAPTER V
PUNISHMENTS

Article 29
Principal punishments

The following punishments shall apply to the offenders:
1. Capital punishment or life imprisonment;
2. Imprisonment;
3. Fine;

A person who has committed a criminal contravention shall suffer the following principal punishments:
1. Imprisonment;
2. Fine.

Article 30
Supplementary punishments

Besides the principal punishment, a person who has committed offences or criminal contravention may also be punishable by one or some of the following supplemental punishments:
1. Denial of the right to work as a state employee or in public service;
2. Confiscation of the means relevant to the commitment of the criminal act and of the profits deriving from it;

9. Compulsion to make the court sentence public.

In particular cases, when the criminal punishment is deemed to be inappropriate and when the law provides for imprisonment up to 3 years or other lighter punishments, the court may decide only for the supplementary sentence.

\(^{11}\) Qëndroj in the Albanian original.
Article 31

Life imprisonment or capital punishment

The court decides for life imprisonment when a serious offence has been committed. In special cases, for an extremely serious offence, the court may apply the capital punishment. Persons who commit a contravention are fined in the range of 5 thousand to 2 hundred thousand lekë.

\textsuperscript{12}In the Albanian original it is used the term \textit{vende}, equal to \textit{places} in English.

\textsuperscript{13}In the Albanian original it is used the term \textit{institucione}.
The court, while considering the economic status of the defendant\(^\text{14}\), may allow him to pay his fine by installments, fixing their amount and the terms of the payment.

When the fine is not paid in due time, the court decides on replacing the fine with imprisonment, calculating 1 thousand lekë per one day of imprisonment.

When the fine is imposed for an offence committed, its replacement with imprisonment cannot exceed three years, whereas when it is imposed for a criminal contravention, the replacement cannot exceed one year of imprisonment, but always without exceeding the maximum of imprisonment provided for by the relevant disposition.

When the person convicted as above pays off his fine during the imprisonment term, the court revokes its sentence, making calculations according paragraph 7 of this Article.

Article 35

Deprivation of the right to work in the public service

Deprivation of the right to work in the state administration or in the public service is applied to persons who abuse these offices and have committed an offence for which the court has decided a sentence of no shorter than ten years and deems that such a right should be banned forever.

Article 38

Stripping decorations and honorary titles

A person is stripped of decorations and honorary titles if he commits a criminal act \(^{14}\) dënuar in the original.

Article 39

Deprivation of the right to exercise an activity or skill

Article 40

Deprivation of the right to undertake leading positions

Deprivation of the right to undertake leading positions within the context of juridical persons denies the convicted the right to exercise the duty of director, administrator, manager, liquidator, or perform any other duty relevant to the qualification of the representative of a juridical person.

Deprivation of the right to undertake leading positions within the context of a juridical person is a result of any punishment for criminal acts and is provided for a period of time ranging from one month to five years, when the convicted has abused his authority or has acted in violation of the rules and regulations related to his duty.

Article 41

Denial of the right to stay in one or more administrative units

those areas constitutes a danger for the public security.15

Article 42

Expulsion from the territory

Expulsion from the territory of the Republic of Albania is decided by the court toward a foreign citizen or person without nationality who commits an offence and it is deemed that his further stay in the territory of the Republic of Albania should no longer continue.

The court may revoke the decision through the request of the convicted, when the foreign citizen or the person without nationality gains Albanian citizenship.

Article 43

Publication of court sentences

The court decides the publication of the court sentence when it deems that the disclosure of the content of the sentence interests juridical and physical persons.

The publication of the court sentence consists of compelling the convicted to publish the court decision, at his own expenses, in one or some newspapers or RTV stations, in its entirety or partially, according to the ruling of the court.

The court decides the publication date and the length of time.

The press and mass media are obliged to publish the court sentences sent by the court.

The publication of court sentences is not granted when the divulgence of a state secret is threatened, the private life of people is violated or public moral is afflicted.

The court can revoke, at any time, the sentence of medical or educational sanctions if the circumstances under which they were taken cease to exist, but, in any case, the court is obliged ex officio to reconsider its decision after one year from the date of the court sentence.

The rules relevant to revoking the court sentence, which contained medical and educative sanctions, are provided for in the Code of Criminal Procedure.

CHAPTER VI

DETERMINATION OF PUNISHMENT

Article 47

Determination of punishment

The court determines the punishment in compliance with the provisions of the general part of this code and the limits of punishment on criminal acts provided for by law.

In determining the range of punishment against a person the court considers the dangerousness of the criminal act, the dangerousness of the person who committed the act, the level of guilt, as well as both mitigating and aggravating circumstances.

Article 48

Mitigating circumstances

The following circumstances mitigate the punishment:
a) When the act is committed due to positive moral and social values;
b) When the act is committed under the effect of a psychiatric disorder caused by provocation or the unfair acts of the victim or some other person;
c) When the act is committed under the influence of wrong actions or instructions of a superior;
d) When the person who has committed the act shows deep repentance;
ed) When the person has compensated for the damage caused by the criminal act or has actively helped to eliminate or decrease its consequences;

dh) When the person gives himself over to the competent authorities after committing the criminal act;
e) When the relationship between the offender and the victim has improved to normality.

Article 49

[No title in the original]

Article 50

Aggravating circumstances

The following circumstances aggravate the punishment:

a) When the act committed is based upon weak motives;\(^{16}\)

b) When the act is committed for the purpose of making responsible or hiding the criminal responsibility of a third person, or for avoiding the sentencing for another criminal act;

c) When the criminal act is committed savagely and ruthlessly;

c) When an offence is committed after a sentence was decided for a previous offence;

d) When actions which aggravate or increase the consequences of a criminal act are committed;

dh) When the act is committed by abusing duties which derive from a state or religious function or service;

e) When the act is committed against children, pregnant women, or other people who, for different reasons, cannot protect themselves;

f) When the act is directed against representatives of other states;

g) When the act is committed by taking advantage of family, friendship, or hospitable relations.

gj) When the act is committed in collusion.

Article 51

Imprisonment sentencing of minors

For minors, who at the time they committed the criminal act were under 18 years old, the imprisonment sentence may not exceed half of the term of punishment provided for by law for the criminal act committed.

Article 52

Excluding minors from punishment

The court, considering the lack of dangerousness of the criminal act, estimating the concrete circumstances under which it was committed, and the previous behavior of the minor, may exclude him from punishment.

In this case the court may decide to place the minor to an educational institution.

Article 53

Sentencing under the minimum provided for by law

\(^{16}\) Motive të dobta in the Albanian original.

Article 54

Accepting to pay the fine

As concerns criminal contravention for which, besides the fine, an imprisonment sentence is also provided, the court, upon the request of the person who committed the criminal contravention, may decide to accept his lump sum payment in favor of the state budget, equal to half of the maximum fine provided for criminal contravention by the General Part of this Code.

The request may be presented at any stage of the trial proceedings before the final sentence [at the court] of first instance.

When the court rejects such a request, it sentences [the defendant] for the act committed.

The request is not accepted for persons previously convicted also for criminal contravention.

Article 55

Sentencing for more than one criminal act

When actions or non-actions contain elements of more than one criminal act, and when the person has committed more than one criminal act for which no sentence has been given, the court first sentences every criminal act separately, giving a single sentence at the end, which consists of the heavier added sentence.\(^{17}\)

The heavier added sentence may exceed neither the total sum of the punishments determined separately nor the maximum provided for the type of the sentence given.

When the court deems that committing more than one crime does not demonstrate the serious dangerousness of the defendant\(^{18}\), it may give as a final sentence the heaviest punishment provided for one of the criminal acts.

In giving its final decision, the court sentences one or more than one of the supplementary punishments given separately for each particular crime.

Article 56

Concurrence of sentences

If before serving the full sentence, the convicted is sentenced for a criminal act committed prior to the sentencing, the rules of the previous article shall apply, and the already served portion will be calculated into the new sentence.

When the convicted commits a new criminal act after his sentencing, but before the full term of the sentence is served, the court concurs the new sentence with the remaining portion of the previous term, according to the rules provided for in Article 55 of this Code.

In any case, the execution of the sentence must be completed within three years.

The court revokes the fragmentary sentence when these circumstances cease to exist, or when the convicted violates the obligations defined in the sentence.

Article 59

Suspending the execution of a sentence

If the person and the circumstances under which the criminal act was committed are of little dangerousness the court, while sentencing up to five years of imprisonment, may rule that the convicted be put on probation, thus suspending the execution of the sentence, provided that during the probation he will not commit any other criminal act equally serious or more serious than the previous one.

Revoking is made even when the convicted, without having reasonable cause, has not met the measures and sanctions mentioned in Articles 60 and 61 of this Code, which were imposed upon him.

When the suspending decision is not revoked, the [first] sentence given is considered void.

Article 63
Suspension of imprisonment and compulsion to perform labor in favor of public interest

The court may suspend the imprisonment sentence if the latter is less than one year, and replace it with the compulsion to perform labor in favor of the public interest, if the person and the circumstances under which the criminal act was committed are of little danger.

Labor in favor of the public interest extends from forty to two hundred and forty hours and consists of compelling the convicted to perform unpaid labor in favor of the public interest or to the benefit of an organization as nominated in the court verdict.

The compulsion may not be ruled if the convicted refuses the suspension during the court hearing.

Labor in favor of the public interest is performed within a six-month term.

In its sentence the court determines the working hours, as well as the days of week when the labor will be performed.
